Some people tolerate roaches and water-bugs in the kitchen, in vain belief that the rest of the family will not find it out. Perhaps they will not, but suppose that some day you would serve a roach in the pie: perhaps then you would wish that you had spent 20c for a box of Cyrus Roach Powder.

HONORS FOR THE DEAD CHURCHMAN

Rich and Poor, in Tears, Kneel at the Bier of Rev. Father Thomas J. Ducey.

HIS KIND DEEDS RECALLED

New York, Aug. 24.—A never-ending chain of visitors called all yesterday, last night and today at 18 East Twenty-ninth street, where the body of the Rev. Father Thomas J. Ducey lies in state. The rich and the poor, the famous and the unknown, knelt side by side at the bier of the gray-haired priest and offered prayer for him.

Since his death became known a tribute of tears has been paid to the dead churchman. Kyrie Bellows was one of the first callers yesterday, and other actors who had known and loved the popular priest followed close on his heels. Hundreds of those who took a last look at Father Ducey are not members of the Roman Catholic Church, but were his ardent admirers.

In the afternoon many carriages and automobiles stopped in front of the small house, which lies in the shadow of the Little Church Around the Corner, and only a block from St. Leo's Roman Catholic Church, of which Father Ducey was pastor. Richly garbed women and well dressed men, the vehicles to view Father Ducey's mortal remains.

The night was given over to those who were just as fortunate as the day. Dozens of the men and women whom Father Ducey had befriended pressed close to his bier. As they knelt in prayer their tears flowed.

RECOUNTED HIS CHARITIES.

Groups gathered on the walk in front of the house and in low voices recounted the deeds of Father Ducey.

"Why, it was just a few weeks ago," said a woman, "that he said from the pulpit that we should soon come to church and not find our pastor. He said he hoped whoever took his place would do it to the best of his ability," she concluded, weeping.

"I remember," ventured one of the group, "the time he told of having received kind letters from friends of Mary Sullivan, a servant girl who had died. He had befriended her, and spoke well of her when she was dead. They thought it so strange," he said, "that he should go so much trouble for a servant girl. But you must remember that perhaps the mother of every woman here when she died was a living Mary Sullivan worked in one family thirty-five years. Can anything better than that be said of her? I think that is sufficient." And so it was Father Ducey's way. The poor were as great in his eyes as the rich.

SILENCED UNKIND WORDS.

"You recollect the way he told us all to pray for the woman who died on the street," said one, "and under suspicious circumstances," another said. "It was not known if she had taken her own life, or if she was a Catholic. Father Ducey would not listen to a word against her, and told us to all say prayers for her."

BRIDGEPORT MAN CHOSEN TO HEAD ASSOCIATION OF RURAL LETTER CARRIERS.

The annual meeting of the Fairfield County Rural Letter Carriers' association was held in Danbury Saturday at which time these employees of the post-office department were entertained at the home of William J. Hamilton on White street.

The business of the meeting was principally the election of officers for the next year. The following were elected:

President and secretary, Harlan P. Ruess, of Bridgeport; vice-president, Charles Wilson, of Bridgeport; treasurer, Samuel S. Zeller, of Bridgeport. Several new members were voted into the association.

The gathering of rural carriers will be on Labor Day when a state convention will be held at some city yet to be chosen.

Snake Mail Delivery Is Winsted's Newest

Winsted, Conn., Aug. 24.—"Wanted—Two large snakes must be racers; they must be black and red; reptiles must be broken to carry mail," J. G. Hall.

An advertisement which appeared here last evening, excited the curiosity of a number, one of whom had a talk with Mr. Hall, who runs a stage between Winsted and the Southern Berkshires.

"What do you want the snakes for?" Mr. Hall was asked.

"To carry the mail faster than I can," tersely replied the stage driver. "I have been pestered long enough by city girls up country who complain that the stage is slow. Further, I have been pestered long enough by city girls up country who complain that the stage is slow. Further, I have been pestered long enough by city girls up country who complain that the stage is slow."

"A team of blacksmen, I thought ought to deliver my automobile, alrship or carrier pigeon for speed. Furthermore," continued Mr. Hall, "there are no restrictions governing their speed on highways, and they can cross lots, and I can consider the fair receipt of mail by snake carriers would not draw abuse the reptiles as they have me."

Calling off Strike Did Not Materialize

(Special from United Press.)

Stockholm, Aug. 24.—The promised calling off of the strike today did not materialize owing to the employers' refusal to reinstate all the men who had gone on strike. The employers had done this the strike committee would have formally declared the strike off.

As it was hundreds of workmen returned and the position of those who are out is becoming daily more precarious. The number of strikers no longer seems serious and the employers are planning to force the employers to arbitrate the differences with the strikers.

KELLEY BIDS LOW ON PIPING FOR LAKEVIEW HOME

The Board of Charities met last evening to consider bids for the piping at Lakeview Home when the new boilers are installed. Although the material was not ordered until yesterday only three bids were offered last night. John Kelly bid $87; the Bridgeport Water Heater Company $90, and the Wellington Company $92. It was decided to give the work to the lowest bidder, provided that he can furnish the customary bond and will sign the contract as drawn by the City Attorney.

If the lowest bidder cannot comply with these terms, it will be given to the next lowest bidder. The boiler house is to be built of cement block which will be made by Frank E.

NEW HOTEL ON N. H. HOUSE SITE

Million Dollar Structure Planned by Syndicate Headed by Senator Frank S. Butterworth.

MAY BE CALLED THE TAFT

New Haven, Aug. 24.—Announcement is made in financial circles in this city that a new million dollar hotel will be built in this city on the site of the New Haven house, by a syndicate in which ex-Senator Frank S. Butterworth of the F. S. Butterworth Co. is interested, and that the new hotel may be named after President Taft by permission from the chief magistrate of the country, who has a very warm spot in his heart for all that pertains to the success of New Haven, and for his old college town—that of Yale university.

The plan of the structure will be presented to the public within a few weeks, together with a sketch of the front of the building, and there will be at that time a show of the location of a structure on both Chapel and College streets that will attract attention throughout the state.

The new hotel will be the largest in the state and will be the most modern and up-to-date construction in every respect.

While a large number of outside capitalists of importance are already interested in the undertaking, and while it is believed that the building of the hotel will cost from $800,000 to $1,000,000, yet every effort will be made to keep New Haven capitalists interested in the undertaking and to build up New Haven's much talked about and most important hotel at the very advantageous point indicated.

The story has been in circulation for some time that Landlord Moseley had been planning to build a hotel on the site of the old New Haven house, but the overtures of the syndicate in question which have been going on for several months past.

In connection with the undertaking Mr. Butterworth said that the plans would call for a hotel of brick and steel construction, of ornamental type, seven or more stories in height and that it would furnish much larger accommodations than the somewhat famous Hotel Elton in Waterbury, which has lately been held up as a shining mark in the hotel world.

Especially attention will be paid, in fitting out the hotel, to dining halls and club rooms for important societies. The hotel will be a landmark in the city and will be a source of pride to the city.

The work of Harold Saiter and Clayton Leachman, who are the architects, respectively was perfectly taken. Bill, Jim's foreman, played by George Parren, was all that could be desired. The work of the architect was perfectly taken.

Nothing but words of praise can be said for the entire company. The work of the architect was perfectly taken. The work of the architect was perfectly taken.

JACKSON'S DOLL VARDEN.

"Dolly Varden" with Miss Adeline Fildes in the title role, with which Miss Lulu Glaser was invested in the years past, will be the attraction at Jackson's theatre this evening, and judging from the wide-spread interest in the play, it is probable that large proportions will be present.

This most tuneful opera by Messrs. Stange and Edwards, not only is a masterpiece of the works of its great author, but is remembered by its pleasing, catchy and whistling music and the bright comedy in which the play is couched.

The work of the architect was perfectly taken. The work of the architect was perfectly taken. The work of the architect was perfectly taken.

TO OBSERVE LABOR DAY IN CHURCH

SUNDAY PRECEDING LABOR DAY C. L. U. TO ATTEND SERVICES AT SOUTH CHURCH.

Preparations are nearing completion for an observance of Labor Day on the part of the workmen of the city in conjunction with the churches and citizens. A number of endorsements in the city have been secured, and the laboring men are being prepared and will soon be published.

The meeting will be held at the South Congregational church on Sunday evening, Sept. 5, at 7 o'clock. The address of the evening will be given by the Rev. Charles Steele, superintendent of the Presbyterian department of labor.

Mr. Steele has with him in recent years done more than any other person in the country toward bringing the church and the workingmen together, and will speak at this time as a workman, having himself learned and followed the trade of machinist.

It has been decided to devote the collection of the evening service to the support of the Anti-Tuberculosis work of the city.

The cause appears so directly to the sympathy and interest of the public that a generous offering is looked for. Mayor Lee has been requested to introduce the speaker and has signified his willingness to do so.

STEEPLECHASE

High tide for afternoons this week promises the opportunity for the enjoyment of the fine surf bathing facilities at Steeplechase Island. The summer season is winding up, and the time is short for indulging in this healthful pastime and swimmers should take advantage of these final bathing chances. Women and children receive special attention at the Steeplechase baths from Mrs. A. E. Payne, manager. The admission ticket to the island being good for a ride on the Royal Gorge roller coaster and also the performance of The Great Calvert on the high wire, patrons receive full value for the small outlay. Steeplechase Island is delightful these days.

ANOTHER MIMIC WAR

Worcester, Mass., Aug. 24.—Another mimic war game in Worcester and Middlesex counties, similar to the one just completed in southeastern Massachusetts, is being arranged for 1910, according to plans said to be now under consideration by the War Department of the United States.

As in the recent manoeuvres, the Massachusetts militia will act as the defenders of the city of Boston against a hostile army which will probably make an attack from a point west of Worcester. Most of the fighting is expected to take place in the vicinity of this city and South Framingham.

Engineers of the War Department are said to be working on maps of the district, covering a radius of 15 miles of South Framingham.

Tammany Leader Shot, Result of Political Row

(Special from United Press.)

New York, Aug. 24.—It is stated today that the attack made last night on Michael O'Shaughnessy, saloon keeper and Tammany leader of the 27th Assembly district, by William J. Boland, president of the Bricklayers and Masons' International Union of America, who was later arrested charged with wilful assault, was the direct result of J. P. Morgan's efforts to have George B. Cortelyou nominated as President of the United States.

F. J. McNulty, a prominent labor leader, was interviewed by Morgan in the effort to have the nomination go to Cortelyou. McNulty established headquarters in the Vanderbilt Hotel and had a lot of speakers to boom Cortelyou. One of them was Bowen.

The room fell through and Bowen is said to have received no compensation for his work.

Last night Bowen entered the saloon of the Vanderbilt Hotel where it is believed he saw McNulty talking with O'Shaughnessy. McNulty was ordered out of the place. When McNulty left Bowen is said to have cursed him but McNulty walked away. O'Shaughnessy was attacked by Bowen, shooting him twice and snatching his pistol several times, but without effect. The police declared Bowen was perfectly sober when he did the shooting.
